WASHINGTON

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for writing to me and for sharing your thoughts. Every day, I am fighting to make your neighborhood safer, make your cost of living more affordable, and keep the American Dream alive and flourishing for every family and every community—no matter what state you live in.

My Administration is doing this by bringing common sense back to our government, economy, and culture. We are once again proudly upholding the laws, values, and way of life that have made America the greatest country in the history of the world. My Administration is restoring safety to our communities; prosecuting criminals to the fullest extent of the law; clamping down on so-called “sanctuary cities” that harbor illegal aliens who thrive on your benefits, take your jobs, and drive up housing costs; and deploying federal resources to the cities and States that have abandoned their constitutional duties to protect American citizens. As a result of our efforts, the murder rate across our Nation’s biggest cities has plummeted to its lowest level since at least 1900, marking the biggest one-year drop in recorded history. America is also seeing dramatic reductions in rapes, robberies, aggravated assaults, vehicular homicides, and overdose deaths. And the reason is simple: We are on the side of the American people and law enforcement officers, not the criminals.

To further protect American citizens, I am working every day to make our country great again and to restore prosperity, opportunity, and affordability to our economy. Left-wing politicians in far too many States have imposed crushing taxes and regulations that make it more difficult for hardworking families to succeed. Since I returned to office, I have taken swift action to reverse these high taxes and regulations—including making permanent the largest tax cut in American history and eliminating taxes on tips, overtime, and Social Security. We have already delivered billions of dollars in savings to American taxpayers on the national level, and we will not rest until we dismantle the massive State-level fraud empires that are built on the backs of law-abiding citizens.

My Administration is ushering in a new revolution in common sense—and I will never waver in defending our liberty, our Constitution, and our glorious way of life.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for writing.

I remain committed to advancing a foreign policy of peace through strength and ensuring that our military is prepared to deter threats and defend American freedom. My Administration will always protect the sovereignty of the United States by strengthening our defense and equipping the mightiest fighting force in the world. As Commander in Chief, I will always put our citizens, our values, and our Nation first.

May God bless you, and may He continue to bless the United States of America.

Sincerely,

U.S. Education Policy — March 2026

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

March 26, 2026

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for taking the time to share your views regarding education.

As President, some of my most critical duties are to restore greatness to the American education system, return common sense to our classrooms, and empower parents to choose the education that best suits their needs and values. My Administration's policy is simple: Parents and local communities—not progressive bureaucrats in Washington, D.C.—have the fundamental right as Americans to oversee their children's education.

My Administration is putting an end to the federal control that has failed generations of American children—and we are returning authority back where it belongs: with States, parents, and local communities. To that end, I have directed my Secretary of Education to facilitate the closure of the Department of Education, which has overseen an American literacy crisis of historic proportions. At the same time, we are banning unlawful "Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion" mandates, withholding federal funds from schools that push anti-American propaganda, and revoking visas for foreign students who hate our country. Our education system must be based on merit and love of country so that the next generation of American students will grow, thrive, succeed, and take pride in our Nation.

With the passage of the historic One Big Beautiful Bill earlier this year, my Administration also expanded education savings accounts and is prioritizing school choice in grant programs so that families have the freedom to select the charter, public, religious, or home school option that works best for their child.

These reforms will ensure that every student receives the high-quality education they deserve. America's Golden Age begins in the classroom, and by restoring the greatest education system in the world, we are building a stronger future for our culture, our children, and our beloved country.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for sharing your idea with me.

America is the greatest engine of innovation the world has ever seen. From the beginning of our national story, our people have pushed the boundaries of what is possible—inspired by the belief that hard work will lead to lasting success.

My Administration is unleashing the Golden Age of America. We are cutting red tape, bringing jobs back home to our Nation's shores, restoring pride in our work, and once again putting the needs of the American people first. Every day, we are rescuing the American Dream for citizens all across our land.

Your creativity and determination reflect the spirit that makes our country great. I wish you the very best of luck as you pursue your goals and work to bring your ideas to life.

Sincerely,

Policy Recommendations: Justice Systems, Public Safety, and the Rule of law

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

February 15, 2026

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for taking the time to share your views regarding our justice system, public safety, and the rule of law.

As President, one of my most critical duties is to restore the sacred principle of equal justice under the law for every citizen by rebalancing the scales of justice in our Nation's halls of power. Under the Trump Administration, the era of government weaponization is over—and a new era of justice, integrity, and honor is upon us.

In recent years, the American way of life faced an existential threat from a corrupt political class that abandoned justice in favor of political retribution—allowing violent criminals to roam our streets with impunity while targeting parents, churchgoers, political opponents, and everyday citizens. This decline of the American justice system ended the moment I took the oath of office.

Under my leadership, we are empowering our law enforcement officers to do their jobs and keep our streets safe. Violent criminals are once again being prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law—and the constitutional rights of every American citizen are once again being protected. In July, I proudly signed an Executive Order to restore American cities and remove vagrant individuals from our streets, including by redirecting federal resources toward programs that tackle substance abuse and empowering State and local governments to commit individuals on the streets who pose a risk to themselves or others.

My Administration is also fully committed to supporting our brave men and women in blue. On my first day in office, I directed the Attorney General to pursue federal charges and seek the death penalty against anyone who murders a law enforcement officer. I will never stop working to fully restore law and order in Washington, D.C., and beyond.

Thank you again for writing. May God bless you, and may He continue to bless the United States of America.

Sincerely,

BORDER AND BORDER SECURITY POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

April 25, 2025

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for taking the time to express your views regarding border security policy.

Keeping the American people safe and ensuring that our laws are faithfully executed are among my highest duties as President, and these obligations guide my approach to border security and immigration policy as well as to protect American sovereignty.

One of the most urgent priorities of my Administration has been to end the invasion of illegal aliens and restore safety, security, and law and order at our southern border. For 4 years, our Nation endured a crisis of unimaginable proportions stemming from the open border policies of the previous administration. In a jarring act of betrayal against the American people, my predecessor unleashed an army of gangs and criminal migrants from the darkest and most dangerous corners of the world—ushering in record-shattering levels of illegal immigration. This crisis at our southern border has strained the resources of communities across our Nation, put deadly drugs in the hands of countless Americans, stolen countless American lives, and broken the hearts of countless American families.

My Administration recognizes legal immigration to the United States is a privilege, not a right. That is why I ended this betrayal of the American people the moment I took the oath of office. One of my first actions as President was declaring a National Emergency at the southern border. I also designated cartels as foreign terrorist organizations and specially designated global terrorists to end their campaign of violence and bloodshed on our land. I have resumed border wall construction, reinstated the Remain in Mexico policy, halted the practice of catch-and-release, ended asylum for illegal border crossers, deployed thousands of American soldiers to defend and protect our southern border, and begun carrying out the largest deportation operation in the history of our country. And in my first legislative action as President, I signed into law the Laken Riley Act.

The United States of America is not simply an idea but also a dream and a promise—a commitment to its citizens, its history, and its values. A nation without borders ceases to be a nation at all. As President, I will continue to do everything in my power to ensure that our glorious American sovereignty is fully restored and that the United States has the safest and most secure borders of any country in the world.

Thank you again for writing. May God bless you, and may He continue to bless the United States of America.

Sincerely,

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

August 8, 2025

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for taking the time to share your views regarding America's role on the world stage.

Every day, my Administration is working to ensure that our foreign policy serves the interests of our citizens, promotes our values, and strengthens our Nation. When America is strong, the world is a safer place, and the American people are more secure, prosperous, and free.

Four years of catastrophic policies and weak American leadership under the previous administration reduced our credibility, making us less respected and triggering pointless wars in the Middle East and Eastern Europe. My Administration is taking decisive and immediate action to end these conflicts and restore peace through strength by modernizing our military, bolstering our mutually beneficial alliances, and putting the interests of the American people at the heart of our foreign policy.

My Administration is also fixing many areas of failure and neglect. We are working to restore our military readiness, purge the sinister "Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion" ideology from the ranks of our Armed Forces, revive America's maritime dominance, and deploy a next-generation missile defense shield to protect our Nation from missile and aerial attacks.

I will never yield in advocating for the needs of our citizens and our Homeland. The days of war, poverty, and weakness are over—and we are now ushering in a new dawn of American safety, prosperity, and peace.

Thank you again for writing. May God bless you, and may He continue to bless the United States of America.

Sincerely,

LEGISLATIVE REFORM RECOMMENDATIONS

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

June 27, 2025

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for taking the time to share your views regarding legislation pending before Congress.

My Administration is actively working with Congress to swiftly make good on our America First agenda. Every day, I am fighting to fulfill our promise to the American people to deliver secure borders, safe communities, more jobs, low costs, and the return of common sense in Government. Together, we are implementing our pro-worker, pro-family, and pro-freedom agenda at record speed. As President, I will never stop advancing the interests of our Nation and our citizens.

I value hearing from the American people, and thank you again for writing. May God bless you, and may He continue to bless the United States of America.

Sincerely,

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

June 6, 2025

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for taking the time to share your views regarding policies that will strengthen the American economy, enable American energy dominance, and usher in a new era of American prosperity and success.

For years, hardworking American families have struggled to afford the cost of basic necessities like food, gasoline, housing, insurance, and medical care. The regulatory burdens and environmental regulations imposed by the previous administration have devastated the middle class, strained family budgets, and crushed American communities. That is why my Administration is working tirelessly to defeat inflation, quickly bring down prices, and rebuild the greatest economy in the history of the world.

On the first day of my Administration, I proudly signed a Presidential Memorandum to secure emergency price relief for families—ordering federal departments to free the American economy from regulatory restraints, restore affordability, and lower the cost of living.

One of the most important steps in rescuing our economy is unleashing American energy and restoring American energy dominance. During my first term in office, America became the number one producer of oil and natural gas in the world—and we will soon achieve that status again by lifting restrictions on domestic energy production. As the 47th President of the United States, I declared a National Energy Emergency and signed an Executive Order to clamp down on escalating energy prices and roll back energy restrictions. My Administration also opened up the vast reserves in Alaska's Arctic National Wildlife Refuge to energy development. Every day, we are making good on our promise to return the United States to its position as a global energy superpower.

My America First economic vision and commonsense economic policies will launch a new era of American strength, prosperity, and leadership—and my Administration looks forward to rescuing the economy from regulatory onslaught, ending the inflation crisis, and making the American Dream affordable again.

Thank you again for writing. May God bless you, and may He continue to bless the United States of America.

Sincerely,

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

August 13, 2025

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for taking the time to express your views regarding America's economy.

My Administration is quickly rebuilding the greatest economy in the history of the world and ushering in a new Golden Age of prosperity and success. Under my leadership, the American Dream is roaring back, and American workers and American families—not illegal immigrants and foreign interests—are once again at the forefront of our economic policies.

In July, I signed the One Big Beautiful Bill, making the largest tax cut in American history permanent and boosting take-home pay for the typical hardworking family by more than $10,000 a year. Tips, Social Security, and overtime pay can now be earned tax-free. Families are saving; inflation is falling; grocery prices are plummeting; and gas prices recently hit their lowest levels in years, thanks to our sweeping expansion of American energy production. We delivered permanent increases to the Child Tax Credit, supporting more than 40 million American families. We have also added hundreds of thousands of new jobs and secured trillions of dollars in United States investment.

Another critical part of rescuing the American economy has been rebuilding a trade policy that puts American workers, farmers, and businesses first. My Administration is modernizing outdated trade agreements, confronting unfair foreign practices using strategic tariffs, and securing new deals based on fairness, reciprocity, and American strength. These actions are boosting American production, rebuilding supply chains, lowering costs, creating more jobs, and fueling a resurgence of American economic growth.

My America First vision is providing the citizens of our Nation with lower costs and renewed opportunities. As President, I will never stop fighting for American workers, American families, American businesses, and our glorious American future.

Sincerely,

IMMIGRATION POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

August 13, 2025

Dear Mr. Manivannan,

Thank you for taking the time to express your views regarding immigration policy.

As President, my most sacred duties are to protect the safety of American citizens, defend the interests of American workers, and uphold law and order in American communities. These are the obligations that guide my approach to border security and immigration policy.

Following the passage of the historic One Big Beautiful Bill in July, my Administration is now executing the strongest immigration overhaul in modern American history. This landmark legislation dramatically expands the operations of the Department of Homeland Security and Immigration and Customs Enforcement, unleashes a massive surge in Border Patrol personnel, and equips law enforcement with the tools and resources they need to arrest and remove dangerous illegal criminals from our streets and dismantle drug and human trafficking networks. The bill also authorizes the construction of hundreds of miles of new border wall and empowers federal agents to detain and deport at least one million illegal immigrants every year.

By restoring strong and secure borders, my Administration is also protecting American jobs, raising wages, and ensuring that our public resources serve our own citizens first. I am steadfastly committed to safeguarding federal public benefits for American citizens who are truly in need—not illegal immigrants who have no right to be here. With my America First economic vision, my immigration policy is lowering costs, creating jobs, and fueling an explosion of American economic growth.

Enforcing the rule of law at our borders is delivering safer neighborhoods, protecting public resources, and providing more jobs and opportunities for American citizens. As President, I will continue fighting to ensure that our glorious American sovereignty is fully restored and that the United States has the safest and most secure borders of any country in the world.

Thank you again for writing. May God bless you, and may He continue to bless the United States of America.

Sincerely,
